

February 2017

I first saw Will Pomerantz's work about seven years ago and was immediately struck by its power and creativity. I eventually decided to hire him as Associate Artistic Director for Bay Street Theater, partly based on his excellent work with performers.

Will manages to dependably elicit stunning performances from actors and singers that feel spontaneous, yet deeply felt, and are beautifully structured, yet surprising. Will has conducted audition workshops for our theater, and always finds supportive ways to unlock the creative potential in actors and singers in a way that is transformative. He has an enviable ability to diagnose and solve actor problems as well as consult on material.

An outstanding individual, artist and coach, I recommend him to you without reservation.
